

THE WILSON HOUSE

Venue Rental Guide

Welcome to the PRESIDENT WOODROW WILSON HOUSE

A historic landmark and a site of the National Trust for Historic Preservation, nestled in D.C.'s elegant Kalorama neighborhood.

On March 4, 1921, Woodrow and Edith Wilson moved out of the White House and into their new home – just a mile and a half away – at 2340 S Street, N.W. Completed in 1915, the Wilson's new, very modern home and stately gardens were designed in the Georgian Revival style by renowned architect Waddy Butler Wood, combining classic design with modern necessities.

The former president lived at S Street house until his death in 1924. Edith called the mansion home until her passing in 1961, at which time she bequeathed the house and its furnishings to the National Trust for Historic Preservation to serve as a monument to President Wilson.

The S Street house has been maintained much as it was in 1924, including furniture, art, photographs, state gifts, and the personal effects of President and Mrs. Wilson.

Since 1963, the National Trust has opened the doors of the Woodrow Wilson House to the public, examining the impact of his consequential presidency and, more recently, taking an honest appraisal of Wilson's triumphs and shortcomings.

Today, we are proud to steward this site as a vibrant community resource and a model of preservation and historical collections. We offer tours, programs, special events, rentals of the venue, exhibitions and educational programming.

Historic Perspectives. Modern Initiatives.
