LESSON PLAN 3
Personal Interest vs. Public Welfare
- Government Terminologies
By
Dr. Samantha Averett
Civic Virtue

• Citizens have a responsibility to their communities, country and societies. Citizens should place their responsibility to community, country and society above individual needs and desires.
Democratic Principles

• Principles and practice that protect human freedoms and rights
Constitutional Rights

• Rights or liberties that are implied are expressed in the governing document
Four Corners Activity

• Now that you know the definition for each term. You will pick a corner (strongly agree, agree, disagree, and strongly disagree) to reflect your answer to the following questions.

• Once in the corner discuss your thoughts with the group to the following guiding question then elect a presenter to share the summary of the group’s discussion with the class.

• Guiding Question – why did you choose this corner?
Should citizens put their responsibility to community above their personal interest?
Is it necessary to protect human freedoms and rights?
Is it necessary to have a governing document that expresses an individual’s rights and liberties?
